Looking for a photographer?

David

Mac

We are the Little Red Book photographers and we'll travel nationally and internationally to shoot your wedding.

We like coffee and we like talking, but what's our photography all about?

It's all about the Preparation.

We'd love to get together with you, so you can tell us all about the big day that's coming.

Pre-wedding consultations are always included in our collection, that way we will always know what you would like us to do.

It's all about the Pictures.

We place no limit on the amount we take. You will receive your high-resolution images on a lovely presentation USB flash-drive.

It's all about the laughter.

These are the moments you'll want to remember.
We always work with two photographers, so we don't miss any aspect of your special day.

It's all about the timing.

There is no time limit on how long we spend with you. After all, this is your special day.

It's all about keeping it simple.

So that's what we'll do. No endless choice of collections to decide from, no confusing range of prices. Just one collection without a fancy name. After all, you only really want to know the facts with the cost don't you?
